

Fraud Alert

Allegis Group and its network of specialized companies are all fiercely committed to our mission — to provide organizations with the highest-quality talent solutions, while also creating significant opportunities for individuals to realize their professional aspirations and achieve personal success. We fulfill this goal by operating with a strong set of core values.

As we remain committed to operating with high standards and integrity, please be aware there are several recruiting scams impersonating many reputable organizations by phone, as well as, online through email and various social media sites.

Reputable organizations like Allegis Group will not ask job candidates to pay any kind of fee, cash checks from outside sources, invest in any product or services, nor supply information such as credit card information by email or online.

If you believe you've been contacted by a deceptive recruiter impersonating an Allegis Group company, do not provide any personal information and immediately notify our Information Security team by submitting an incident report at infosec.allegisgroup.com.

For additional information and tips on job scams, please visit the Federal Trade Commission's website.